ABOUT OUR WEBSITE

LondonforKids.net aims to entertain, educate and inspire families in and around the London area. We've mostly spent the past five months creating unique content, calendars, and reaching out to the community and we'd love to collaborate with your organisation in bettering the everyday lives of children and parents.

In the past few months we've incorporated quite a bit into our site: a family events calendar; submissions pages for local family businesses to list their wares; a freebies & cheapies page where parents can find vouchers for offers; and news articles of upcoming activities just for families...all at no charge.

OUR GOALS...

LondonforKids.net is singularly focused on helping mums, dads and children by bringing the latest information on what's on in London and exposing the vast array of choices they have in shopping, parties, entertainment, health, child care and more.

We help visitors too: highlighting what to do and where to stay for travelling families as well as offering critical advice on the world-class destination we call home.
